Approaching the Paper

- ✦ Check the theme. It will be in capital letters on the front page of the exam booklet. The comprehensions will be based on this theme and the compositions will be based on the comprehensions.

- ✦ Choose your Comp B task first as some tasks will suit you better than others. When you have selected this, cross out the Comp A answers so you do not answer them on that comprehension text.
- ✦ When choosing which Comp A questions you will answer, consider the visual text and the style question. For example, you may like answering on the visual text or be more confident about answering a style question on discursive language rather than narrative language.
- ✦ More detailed instructions on approaching Comp A and B questions can be found in other slideshows on this website.
